Who we are: Parkinson's Australia

National Advocacy

We are the national voice & advocate representing over 150K people living with Parkinson’s, their families, carers, researchers, and health professionals.

parkinson’s australia

National Advocacy • Connection • Awareness

How:

- Government submissions
- #BanParaquat Campaign
- Commissioning reports
- Parkinson’s eXchange Podcast
- Radio, TV & Newspapers
- Lobbying at APH

Who we are: Parkinson's Australia

Connection

Parkinson’s Australia delivers face-to-face connection through its national conference, held every two years, bringing together people living with Parkinson’s, care partners, allied health professionals, and leading researchers from across the globe.

parkinson’s australia

National Advocacy • Connection • Awareness

The Parkinson’s Australia National Conference supports knowledge exchange, collaboration, and practical learning grounded in evidence and lived experience.

Who we are: Parkinson's Australia

Awareness

Parkinson's impacts more than movement. It is a whole-body disorder with many invisible symptoms. Learn more about the >40 symptoms and treatment options to help those living with this condition stay independent longer at our expert-reviewed infohub.

parkinson's australia

National Advocacy • Connection • Awareness

Join us in raising awareness and advocating for the Parkinson's community. Together, we can reduce stigma, improve understanding, and drive meaningful change.